"ALONG THE KENNEBEC"

Beautiful New England Comedy Drama
at the Phelan Opera House Tomorrow
(Friday) Night, Feb. 12.

Playgoers who have seen those delightful humorous plays, "Quincy Adams Sawyer," "Meadowbrook Farm," "Away Down East," and others on that order, will be pleased to know that one ranking along with the best will play in the opera house tomorrow night. "Along the Kennebec" is spoken of in the press everywhere as a comedy drama presenting all of the characteristics of New England plays. It will be presented by a company of fifteen players. The comedy is of a pure and clean character, keeping the audience in good humor throughout the play, while the drama itself is of the highest order. It is a play that delights all classes of playgoers, without a dull line. There are six clever character specialties of bright music and comedy. Special scenery is used for the realistic snow storm, the funny duel scene and the thrilling explosion scene. The company carries a brass band and will give a band concert at noon and one in the evening before the play. Prices 25, 50 and 75 cents; reserved seats now on sale.

Crawford Clippings.

(From Crawford Tribune.)

Under its new management, the Alliance Herald is looming up in greatly improved appearance, general make-up and amount of readable matter.

Miss Inez Fairchild left Wednesday afternoon for a several days' visit with friends at Alliance.

Mrs. John Wiker of Alliance was a passenger through here Tuesday, on her way to Chadron, where she expects to reside permanently, Mr. Wiker having purchased an interest in a moving picture show there.

J. W. Guthrie of Alliance was in the city Monday, en route to Chadron, to look after business matters.

Walter Hayt came up from Alliance Wednesday to spend a few days with friends here before leaving for Chicago to remain.

Alliance is a very "dry town," indeed, and wants a normal school located there on the strength thereof; but the court records indicate that bootleggers and speak-easies are doing more business in "wet goods" line than the licensed saloons here.

Thursday evening of last week about 20 friends of Will Gregg at Marsland, gathered at the Gregg home to give him a farewell reception, as he was about to leave for school at Spearfish, S. D. A skating party was contemplated, but the clerk of the weather butted in and spoiled that program, when the young folks changed their plans. Music, cards, games, refreshments, etc., furnished the entertainment, and a fine social evening was enjoyed by all.

Notes from Bridgeport

(From the News-Blade)

J. R. Henderson of Angora is preparing to open a harness shop at Bayard.

G. W. Emery, section foreman at Angora, was a business visitor in Bridgeport last Saturday.

County Superintendent Phillips of Box Butte county and County Superintendent Edith Morrison of Cheyenne county were in Bridgeport yesterday conferring with Miss Walford of Morrill county on educational matters. They visited the Bridgeport high school in the afternoon, and spoke in the highest terms of the work in that department.

Alliance failed to secure the next meeting of the State Fireman's Association, the strongest argument against our neighbor being that it is a "dry town," where the visitors would have no opportunity to slake their thirst. Did the Alliance boosters forget that Bridgeport is only thirty-seven miles away?

The Bridgeport Woman's Club met with Mrs. Slinm Wednesday afternoon. The day was ideal and the members turned out in large numbers. The club women are working hard to establish a free library and should be encouraged by every good citizen. After the usual lesson and an interesting reading from Pathfinder by Mrs. Wade, the hostess served a dainty lunch. Club adjourned to meet in two weeks with Mrs. Will Willis.
